

Judith Johnson, is life time member. She is currently a teacher trainer for the Iizuka City Board of Education, an Adjunct Professor at Southwest China University, P.R.C. and has been on the faculties of universities in Japan, South Korea, China, Ecuador and the United States. She collaborated in the development of morally-based curricula and conducted teacher education programs in Asia, North and Central America, Europe. She is the Director of Curriculum of International Educational Initiatives and the author of numerous articles and books for EFL, teacher training, and K-12 education.

She has attracted new members to the WCCI, served as a Special Interest Group coordinator at two conferences and was the International Program Chair for the 2008 Turkey Conference. In 2009, she initiated and coordinated a WCCI conference that took place in Yamaguchi, Japan.

As a Board Member, she will continue to promote WCCI, strive to re-establish the Japan Chapter and support other national chapters, whenever possible. There has always been successful on-going collaborative research carried out among WCCI members. She believes that now is the time for the Board and national chapters to promote mentorship, as well. Through mentoring, WCCI can take advantage of the exceptional skills and seasoned experience of many of its members to assist others to grow. Thereby, as individuals and an organization, we can develop our professionalism and capacity to serve humanity.
